OTTAWA AWAITS SHIP'S REPORT ON ATTACK AT SEA

U.S. Says Canadian Vessel Showed No Lights When Shelled

Captain of Nova Scotia Motor Vessel Shawnee Reports His Vessel Was Fired On by U.S. Coastguard Cutter When Twenty-six Miles East of New York; U.S. Officers Say Ship, Listed as Rum Runner, Refused to Halt.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—As far as could be learned to-day, neither the Department of External Affairs nor the Prime Minister's office had received any protest with respect to an attack by a United States coastguard cutter on the Nova Scotia motor vessel Shawnee.

U.S. OFFICERS' REPORT

Washington, Sept. 19.—United States Coastguard headquarters here announced in a brief statement to-day that a coastguard patrol boat had fired on the Canadian motorship Shawnee off Ambrose Light, off New York harbor, on the night of September 13 after the vessel had failed to stop.

A later statement from the coastguard said its records listed the Shawnee as a rum-runner, which had been watched by the coastguard vessels.

SAY NO LIGHTS SHOWN

The first statement said the Shawnee was running without lights and appeared to be a United States craft. There was no name on the stern to identify her, according to the coastguard, but as the vessel proceeded after her officers had refused to identify her, the name Shawnee was made out on her bow.

FIRE FIVE TIMES

In the chase, the coastguard patrol boat at first held the Shawnee in the beam of her searchlight and repeatedly blew whistles for the Canadian craft to stop, according to the headquarters statement. The patrol then fired three blank warning shots without bringing the Shawnee to a halt, and then followed with two shells, after which the vessel stopped.

After the patrol boat had stopped the motor ship, the coastguard cutter Grasham trailed her on her way north.

HALIFAX, SEPT. 19.—With her stern port quarter pierced and part of her rail carried away by shells, which Captain J. McLeod of Halifax declares were fired by the United States Coastguard cutter No. 143, off New York last Friday night, the Nova Scotia

DOUKHOBORS IN PRISON ARE TO BE RELEASED

Fifty-nine Held at Prince Albert, Sask., Agree to Live at Peace

Prince Albert, Sask., Sept. 19.—The fifty-nine Doukhobors in jail here serving sentences for staging a nude parade near Canora, Sask., probably will be granted their release in a week or ten days, according to a radio dispatch from Waskegwan Lake, Prince Albert National Park, from Hon. J. A. Merkle, Minister of Labor and Industries in the new Anderson Cabinet of Saskatchewan.

The Doukhobors, Mr. Merkle stated, objected to military training in the schools. The Government had agreed to abolish that part of physical training as a compulsory measure and the Doukhobors would be allowed their freedom shortly on agreeing to live as lawful citizens.

NEW STORAGE PLANS IN BRITAIN INTEREST CANADA

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—One of the proposals which Mr. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal, will, it is understood, submit to the British Government is that extensive elevators be erected at certain points in the British Isles to store wheat. Government officials here see great possibilities for Canada if such a proposal is accepted, particularly if the project is expanded to include cold storage and dry storage.

The immediate object on the part of the British Government in building the elevators would be to relieve unemployment. In addition the increased storage space would place Britain in a position of having a larger visible supply of wheat in the country.

ANOTHER POWER FIGHT OPENS

Consolidated and Powell River Company Seek Loisa River Rights

Hearing of Rival Applications Delayed Until October 18

Two giant British Columbia industrial concerns, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company and the Powell River Company, are at it again in a power fight. The Powell River Company is seeking rights on the right to harness Loisa River, near Powell River for hydro-electrical purposes.

As announced at to-day's brief hearing the Consolidated wants Loisa River to provide power for its projected steel mill, to be established on a site near this stream. The Powell River Company seeks rights on the river to make possible a large addition to its paper plant next year.

Hearing on these rival applications was delayed until October 18, as the Consolidated Company was not prepared to go ahead until the arrival here of J. J. Warren, its president, now in the east.

The Powell River Company, through its general manager, A. E. McMaster, declared it was anxious to start construction on Loisa River next year so as to expand its paper output in 1931. This, Mr. McMaster said, is necessary to keep abreast of its export markets, which would be lost without an enlarged paper production.

F. T. G. Lucas, K.C., appearing for the Consolidated, emphasized the importance of a coast smelter and asked for more time to prepare data on this project.

St. Vincent Island People Fear Volcano Will Become Active

Kingston, St. Vincent, British West Indies, Sept. 19.—Great anxiety is felt on St. Vincent Island over the increasing volcanic activity observed in Mont Pelée, on the French island of Martinique, since Monday.

Mount Soufriere, a volcano on the northern part of St. Vincent, is quietest. Atmospheric conditions are identical with those observed in May, 1902, when Soufriere burst into eruption at the same time as Mont Pelée.

The Government is watching Mount Soufriere very closely because the volcano has a bad reputation. In 1903 several eruptions destroyed plantations and killed 2,000 persons.

Heat waves were observed to-day and a strong odor of sulphur accompanied them.

THE BRITISH REPORT

The British report stated baldly and without qualifications the reasons why King Feisal and all sections of opinion in Iraq desire to see the British mandate terminated. No compensating reasons are adduced by the Colonial Office as to why the British should remain in Baghdad and continue garrisoning the country against the wish of the inhabitants.

LYALL FIRM IN VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION

Trading in Construction Company's Stock Ceases on Montreal Exchange

Concern Has Several Big Contracts, Including Toronto Courthouse

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Trading in the stock of the Lyall Construction Company was suspended on the Montreal Stock Exchange to-day. It was announced the company had gone into voluntary liquidation.

Official announcement that the company had applied for liquidation was made on the exchange soon after trading had started this morning. It is understood, however, that the company still has on its hands several valuable contracts, including one for the erection of the Toronto courthouse, valued at $2,000,000.

During recent months the stock of the company had steadily declined on the local exchange from a high of 65, established on March 9 last, to a closing quotation this morning at 10.

THREE WORKERS IN MINE ARE TRAPPED BY FIRE

Await Rescue in Pit in Idaho After Buildings on Surface Burned

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 19.—Fire ravaged the Terrible Edith Mine near Murray, Idaho, to-day, trapping three men and burning down all the mine buildings, with a loss of between $25,000 and $30,000.

The imprisoned men, held captive at the 1,000-foot level by gas and smoke from the portals of the mine, which burned fiercely, were so long as they stayed deep in the workings.

The Terrible Edith is a silver-lead mine. The men trapped are Garman Patrie, Jerry Kerr and Russell Anselough, all of Murray.

After they had entered the workings about 6:30 a.m. fire broke out, razing the compressor building, cookhouse, bunkhouse, garage, blacksmith shop, barn and company headquarters. Flames spread to the wooden portals of the mine. Silver-lead mine tunnels are braced with heavy timbers and the mine is three and one-half miles from Murray, which is approximately twenty miles north of Wallace. It is owned by the Pontiac Mining Company.

STATED BRITAIN IS TO GIVE UP IRAK MANDATE

London Dispatch Tells of Report Sent to League of Nations Commission

Toronto, Sept. 19.—The Toronto Mail and Empire this morning published under date of September 18 the following special cable from London:

"That the Labor Government has decided to relinquish British control of the Kingdom of Iraq is clearly the implication of a report forwarded by the Colonial Office to the Mandates Commission of the League of Nations, made public here to-night. The Mail and Empire has obtained inferential confirmation of this in a responsible quarter.

The British report stated baldly and without qualifications the reasons why King Feisal and all sections of opinion in Iraq desire to see the British mandate terminated. No compensating reasons are adduced by the Colonial Office as to why the British should remain in Baghdad and continue garrisoning the country against the wish of the inhabitants.

RAILROAD VETERANS VISIT CITY FROM SEATTLE PARLEY

Over 1,300 Employees of Chicago, Milwaukee Road Here

Hold Dinner at Empress Hotel Where Mayor Anscombe Extends Welcome

With 1,364 members of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Veterans Employees Association and their wives on board, the steamer Princess Marguerite arrived at noon to-day from Seattle.

These veteran employees of the railroad are spending their annual convention, the first day being spent in Seattle and the second in Victoria. Luncheon for the visitors was served at the Empress Hotel to-day.

H. A. Scandrett, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul system, headed the large party. Other officials of the line accompanying the group were: J. T. Gillick, vice-president in charge of operations at Chicago; H. B. Earling, vice-president for the Pacific Coast at Seattle; C. W. Mitchell, president of the Veterans Employees Association; H. H. Field, general counsel at Chicago; Joshua Green, Seattle, director; F. N. Hicks, assistant traffic manager at Seattle; and J. F. Ball, assistant general passenger agent.

One of the outstanding features at the luncheon was the presentation by Mayor Herbert Anscombe to John M. Moran, the oldest man in the company's service, of a handsome piece of Sheffield plate.

Mr. Moran, who is ninety-one years of age, has been continuously employed by the railroad for seventy-four years. Born in Burlington, Vermont, in 1838, Mr. Moran joined the Milwaukee and Mississippi, which later became part of the present system, in 1855. His first job was piling wood for locomotives. Through the whole cycle of jobs around the railway yards he passed, melting tallow for candles, tending switches, heating rivets and serving as machinist's apprentice. In 1904 he started firing and was promoted to engineman four years later.

FAMOUS PADRE BECOMES GREAT PEACE ADVOCATE

Canon Scott, Beloved Figure of Canadian Corps, Visiting Victoria

Men Who Know War Are Now Greatest Pacifists, He Says; Meeting Old Pals

Probably the most beloved figure in the Canadian Corps during the Great War, now one of the strongest advocates in the world of peace, Archdeacon Frederick George Scott, known to all soldiers as Canon Scott, arrived in Victoria yesterday with his famous war book.

The intrepid senior padre who stepped from the well ordered, quiet life of a clergyman to go through every engagement with the Canadians until the bitter battle of the Canal du Nord, September 27, 1918, when he was wounded in the arms, legs and body by an exploding shell, has carried his war book for over ten years.

The former war padre who won the admiration of every Canadian soldier, who fearlessly joined them in the front line to give them his cheery words of encouragement, has been raised by his book and in it has secured thousands of signatures of his old time comrades whom he meets wherever he goes. Throughout Canada his journeys consist of a succession of handshaking as veterans who recognize the former padre in his clerical attire greet an old and popular friend. A guest of Major B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake, Canon Scott yesterday visited the Union Club and was cordially greeted by scores of old friends.

PLANES EXPECTED TO SPEED UP PACIFIC EXPORT TRADE

Seattle, Sept. 19.—While aviation will never more than partially supplant present modes of transportation, it will serve as an important complement to them in carrying on negotiations for freight to be transported by rail and ship, Charles E. Allen, author of the Washington State air laws, told the Pacific Foreign Trade Council at its annual meeting here to-day.

"It is reasonable to believe, he said, 'that always before long will be established along the Aleutian Islands to the Orient. The establishment of a dirigible service to the Orient via Hawaii would afford us marvelous trade advantages.

"Aviation can no more live without cargo than can ocean or rail lines," he declared. "There must be pay loads, and plans to provide such pay loads must originate on the ground. Because of its capabilities of expediting your business these pay loads will originate with you."

FRUIT FROM B.C.

Problems of marketing British Columbia fruit in Europe were discussed by M. J. Newhouse, manager of the North Pacific Co-operative Fruit Exchange, Portland, Oregon. A publicity campaign in Europe and personal contact with buyers was essential under the Old World psychology of buying, he advised the convention.

Germany bought thirty per cent of Pacific Coast dried fruits, he declared, with Great Britain the best market for raisins.

Plan to Double Output of B.A. Paint Co. Ltd.

According to an announcement made by Herbert J. Pender, secretary-treasurer of the British American Paint Company, at the Rotary Club luncheon at the plant to-day, the company is now planning to double its already large daily output. New machinery will be procured, Mr. Pender intimated and other alterations made to increase the capacity of the plant.

FRENCH ASKING QUESTIONS ON NAVY CUT PLANS

Temps Editorial Indicates Officials Disturbed While Britain and U.S. Negotiate

Paris, Sept. 19.—French public opinion is beginning to show traces of uneasiness over the British-United States naval negotiations, fearing they are intended to reach an Anglo-Saxon pact of much broader character than a mere agreement on disarmament. This uneasiness is illustrated in an editorial in Le Temps, which is couched in rather forceful language, though the semi-official newspaper is noted for its careful and moderate utterances.

The Temps asks exactly what the Americans and the British are driving at. "The disarmament controversy is developing in confusion," it says. "The Labor Government intends giving an entirely different orientation to the general policy of Great Britain. What is exactly the 'much broader agreement' than a mere naval accord of which the recent British note speaks. The entire negotiations have a rather singular aspect and demand most serious attention of those who do not wish to be caught by the trend of events."

PILOT IS NEAR DEATH FOLLOWING CRASH OF PLANE

Fahy, Who Fell With Bromley's Machine, Is in California Hospital

Burbank, Cal., Sept. 19.—Physicians at a Glendale hospital, where Lieut. Merbert J. Fahy was semi-conscious to-day, said the former World War pilot probably would live, but that it was doubtful if he would recover the use of his right arm.

Fahy, injured when Lieut. Harold Bromley's plane crashed here on a test flight yesterday afternoon, suffered a compound fracture of the right elbow, a brain concussion, numerous deep cuts about his head and face and possible internal injuries.

Lieut. Fahy and his wife, Mrs. Claire Fahy, with Fahy's nephew, Ward Muller, were to have left for the east Sunday in a cabin transport plane. Fahy planned to enter the national air derby. The Bromley plane was being tested for an attempt to fly from Tacoma to Tokyo.

VIOLENT STORMS SWEEP OVER SEVERAL AREAS IN ENGLAND

London, Sept. 19 (Canadian Press Cable).—While not a drop of rain has fallen over parched London, other parts of England have suffered disastrous thunderstorms.

Two farm laborers at East-Orin, Essex, and a boy at Lewkhor, Oxfordshire, were killed when lightning struck trees under which they were sheltering.

Many houses at Southend were flooded and the electric system of Peterborough was damaged.

The storms were even more severe in France, according to reports. The holiday resort of Dinard was flooded out.

A ruling by the Provincial Department of Education extending the junior matriculation curriculum of British Columbia high schools over a four-year period, in place of the three-year course now general caused a veritable furor in School Board circles throughout the Province to-day.

HINCHLIFE AWAY
Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, under whose guidance the new principle has been adopted, was safely removed from the storm center around the unpopular dictum, being at the moment on an extended visit to Ottawa.

Entering high school at fourteen years of age, students would graduate from a junior matriculation course at the age of seventeen or eighteen, and from a senior matriculation curriculum at eighteen or nineteen, under the new plan, it was being stated by prominent educationists in the Province to-day.

GREATLY INCREASED COSTS
In so far as it would affect Victoria, the new ruling would mean an addition of 25 per cent to the cost of maintenance of Victoria High School; would add 200 students to an already overcrowded building next year; would add to the burden of education placed on shoulders of parents of boys and girls up to eighteen years of age; and would add also to the cost of the school, and therefore the Provincial Government's per capita grant in aid of teachers, it is being stated in local and well-informed circles.

In addition, say trustees who have studied the new plan, the four-year high school course for junior matriculation would go no further than the course now conducted in three years, but would rather have the gradual effect of adding to the rate of deflection among older pupils, whereby only a select few of the many could afford to complete their studies and go on to university. In this sense, it is being stated, the new curriculum would become a form of class legislation.

WILD CROWD SCHOOL
Direct statements that the four-year high school course would add one-quarter to the maintenance cost of Victoria High School and bring its roster up to 1,500 students, in place of the 1,200 now enrolled, were made by leading educationists here to-day.

At Vancouver, where a senior matriculation course is provided by one school, it would require five years to complete the studies, to receive the senior certificate. In smaller centres the four-year course would greatly add to the hardship of semi-rural communities by teaching costs and otherwise, it is stated.

The ruling which caused the excitement in school circles this week follows on the publication of the revised and official statement of curriculum by the Department of Education, under the caption of "Revision of Curriculum, Page 1, the department has this to say:

PROTESTED RULING
"The High School Curriculum is in process of revision. The revised courses will be brought into effect gradually—the course for Grade 9, in September, 1929; that for Grade 10, in September, 1930; that for Grade 11, in September, 1931; and that for Grade 12, in September, 1932."

The principal of the four-year high school course embracing Grades 9 to 12, inclusive, and leading to a general graduation diploma, and admission to Normal School, and to the University of British Columbia, has been adopted.

ADVANCEMENT FOR FEW
"Students who complete Grade 9 in the Junior High School will cover the Senior High School Course in three years (Grades 10 to 12 inclusive). While as a rule students who enter High School in September, 1929, and succeeding years will take four years to complete the course, yet it is expected that a student of superior mental endowment who works diligently will be able to graduate in three years, and High Schools will be expected to make provision for the rapid advancement of the more intelligent and ambitious student. The department expects to print the revised courses in all subjects during the year."

Allegations that the High Schools of the Province were to be made into a weeding-out ground for the Normal School and University were being made to-day by school trustees of various centres, who say that school boards have not been consulted in the promulgation of the new ruling, nor has the real effect of the ruling, by increasing costs and greater burden on parents, been investigated before the serious upheaval of the established plan.

Ira Dilworth, principal of Victoria High School, confirmed the fact that the principle of the four-year course for junior matriculation, had been adopted, and said that students entering the High School this year would be placed on the four-year basis under (Concluded on Page 3)

Attendance Record At Saanichton Fair Surpassed Yesterday

Warm Praise Given Splendid Collection of Products of Saanich Farms and Homes; Lieutenant-Governor Visits Exhibition; Minister of Agriculture Opens Fair and Appeals to Farmers to Capture Home Markets.

The Saanich Exhibition yesterday attracted a record attendance. Among the distinguished guests were His Honor R. R. Bruce and Miss Mackenzie, J. T. McMillan, secretary of the fair, and James R. Anderson, an ex-deputy minister of agriculture and a pioneer of Saanich.

William C. Clarke of North Saanich was presented with the Royal Humane Society's parchment—for an act of heroism in saving the life of John Black of Saanichton in July, 1928. The presentation was made by Hon. C. F. Gibson, who opened the exhibition.

In his address, Mr. Atkinson called attention to the opportunity for post-offered Saanich farmers by the home market, as evidenced by the heavy importations of foodstuffs. He believed that home products could be developed and marketed in such a manner as to capture trade now going to other countries.

Mr. Atkinson stated that the annual Provincial grant to the Saanich Exhibition had been increased to thirty per cent. of the prize list, and he handed H. E. Tanner, president of the society, a cheque for $406 in payment of the grant for the year.

HIGHLAND DANCES

The Highland dancing competitions attracted great audiences throughout the afternoon, the long programme being notable for the large number of competitors in all events.

The annual school sports were carried out in record time, the programme being splendidly organized. The display of the largest exhibition of the entertainments of the afternoon.

In the main hall a magnificent display of flowers and fruits was found. Apples, pears and peaches were remarkably good.

The women's section was well supported with breads, cakes, bottled fruits and vegetables, canned meats, etc. There were twenty entries in the baking powder biscuits class. Cakes of every kind, pies and breads filled one end of the long central table. Bottled fruits were so numerous and so skillfully put up that the judge found it difficult to select the winners. Canned vegetables were also highly creditable.

The display of bottled stone fruits and small fruits was so attractive that one of the big stores of the city made an offer for the whole collection as a commercial display.

FINE FLOWERS

Among the other attractive displays in the main hall were the flowers, including some twenty-five or thirty varieties of dahlias (one magnificent pink specimen measured over fourteen inches across), some very fine late sweet peas, carnations, gladioli and pansies.

Angus McKay's gladioli exhibit was especially representative of the flower. Along some of the side tables were displayed enormous specimens of pumpkins and squashes, turnips, carrots, cauliflower, potatoes, etc., and against the south wall were some attractive examples of wheat and oats in sheaf.

A. E. Horner's display of canna's, which filled an entire corner of the platform, called attention to another local product, the plants being in cement pots made at Bamberton, and an exhibit of pot plants from Randy's Nursery made a pretty setting, embanked at the foot of the stage.

The Saanich Health Centre had a tent in the grounds demonstrating first aid and other work.

The annual ball of the Agricultural Society will be held on Friday evening at the Saanichton Hall, with Heaton's orchestra in attendance.

FINE CATTLE

Particularly strong was the entry list in the cattle and horse section, every shed being filled to capacity. More horses were shown than for several years. Professor R. L. Davis, cattle judge, remarked on the high quality and number of the cattle.

The judge stated that the Saanich

Fair was outstanding among the smaller fairs of British Columbia in regard to the quality of the purebred Jersey cattle shown, the grade cattle being also excellent. Mr. Davis had high praise for the purebred bulls available in Saanich, and singled out the grand champion bull, shown by Capt. C. F. Gibson of Sidney, for special mention.

W. Horsland of Glenford Avenue, a newcomer, won the Burbridge Cup for the best dairy herd, and the Scooby Cup for the best purebred Jersey, a four-year-old cow.

The Suffolk breed of sheep were the most numerous in this department of the show, and the goat entries were greater than any previous year. The Misses W. and K. Burton winning the Butchart Cup with an entry of Toggenburgs, while Saanich shown by Mrs. Newbury won the trophy offered by the B.C. Goat Breeders' Association.

In the poultry section the White Wyandottes were an outstanding feature, attracting special comment by T. Oldershaw, the judge, on their quality.

The rabbit section was not as large as usual, several of the largest exhibitors being employed as expert judges at other shows.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF C.N.R. HERE ON INSPECTION

William D. Robb of Montreal Has Long Record of Service With Company

William Doug Robb, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, arrived in the city to-day from Montreal and will spend a couple of days here transacting company business.

As vice-president, Mr. Robb has charge of insurance, lands, telegraphs, colonization, development, radio, pensions and relief, safety and first aid. Mr. Robb played golf over the Up-lands course this morning in company with Frank Blashfield, manager of C.N.R. Telephones here.

Mr. Robb stated that special attention was being paid by the company's colonization department in bringing out settlers from the British Isles. A total of 56,888 settlers were brought out from the United Kingdom last year and this year there had been an increase of fifteen per cent.

MORE JUVENILES
The company was also concentrating on its scheme to bring out more juveniles from Great Britain, over 1,250 juveniles having been brought out for settlement this year.

Steady development, he said, could be seen in the company's land settlement policy. Fifteen hundred families were settled last year in the west and in the last three years over 2,000,000 acres of new land had been brought under settlement served by the company's lines.

The company handled sixty per cent of the total immigration to Canada.

BROMLEY'S NEW PLANE WRECKED IN CALIFORNIA

Second Machine Built For Tokio Flight Cracked Up on Test Flight

Burbank, Cal., Sept. 19.—"My flight is off for this year. By the time I could get another plane built it would be too late to try for Tokio. I hope to attempt it next year," said Lieut. Harold Bromley, Tacoma aviator, formerly of Victoria, B.C., yesterday afternoon, just after his new low wing monoplane, the second built for his proposed Tacoma-Tokio non-stop flight, was wrecked here while being given its initial flight by Herbert Fahy, test pilot.

LANDED WITHOUT RUDDER
Fahy, who was injured so badly he may never be able to fly again, reported he was forced to make a rudderless landing after the specially designed rudder controls had given way. The plane lost one wing when, from an altitude of 200 feet, Fahy dropped the craft on a concrete highway. It sliced one wing off against a tree, careened into a house, smashing the other wing and its undercarriage and somersaulted upon the paved thoroughfare. The landing gear was smashed and the builders of the plane said it was beyond repair. For the mishap Fahy blamed a counterbalanced tail group which he said had been designed by Lieut. Bromley.

When all directional control of the plane was lost, Fahy managed to glide within a few feet of the earth before the plane stalled and crashed. Fahy, observers said, probably saved his life by ducking down into the cockpit and remaining huddled there to the last. He was found unconscious, held in his seat by the safety belt, with his head resting on the pavement.

Bromley's first craft, also a low-wing monoplane, was wrecked when he attempted to take off at Tacoma early in the summer on his planned non-stop flight to Tokio. Gasoline, which he said splashed from the breather tubes of the overloaded wing tanks into his eyes, was stated to have been the cause of that accident.

STRAIN TOO GREAT
Lieut. Bromley, on the ground, watched as his new plane was checked by a team of mechanics yesterday.

"The strain of the take-off apparently loosened the rudder, and both the rudder and the tail group dropped off, while Lieut. Fahy still was in the air over the field," he said. "While he had no control of the plane, Fahy managed to keep it in a long bank, apparently hoping to make an emergency landing."

Bromley explained the rudder and tail group were in an experimental stage, and had not been tested in the air before.

VIEWERS DIFFER AT GENEVA ON ARMY RESERVES

Geneva, Sept. 19.—Conflict of opinion in the League of Nations disarmament committee to-day, when the British delegation moved to reopen the question of considering trained army reserves in seeking the basis for general disarmament.

Viscount Cecil presented the British proposal, and was supported by the German delegation, but met opposition from the delegations of France, Italy and Japan.

NO VOTE TAKEN
The debate was adjourned this afternoon until to-morrow without a vote being reached. It was understood Lord Cecil and his colleagues hoped only to make Great Britain's change of attitude clear and to leave the Government's hands free to press consideration of the limitation of military forces and stores.

During his speech, Viscount Cecil insisted limitation of land forces, both personnel and material, especially materials, was the most important part of the disarmament problem.

Two World Court Judges Elected

Geneva, Sept. 19.—Sir Cecil Hurst of Great Britain and Lucien Fromageot of France, both noted jurists, were elected judges of the Permanent Court of International Justice to-night. They fill vacancies created by the deaths of Viscount Robert Finlay of Great Britain and Dr. Andre Weiss of France.

LAUNCH THEFT CASE REMANDED

Youths Await Bail After Arraignment on Charge of Stealing Boat

Hearing of two youths in Provincial Police Court on a charge of stealing a launch, the Miss La Salle, owned by James Wood of the Begg Motor Company, was deferred until next Wednesday when Corporal Richard Harvey, conducting the prosecution yesterday afternoon, asked the court for an opportunity to secure witnesses from the Gulf Islands.

The boys, taken in custody by Constables V. Godson and A. Dunbar after a two-day chase among the Gulf waters, will remain in custody until application for bail is made on their behalf.

The Miss La Salle, a twenty-two foot power launch was found abandoned off Galliano Island, her fuel exhausted.

THREE CONCERNS IN BIG MERGER

New York, Sept. 19.—The New York Herald-Tribune to-day says the John Manville Corporation, the Insulite Company and the United States Gypsum Company have joined in the largest amalgamation in the history of the building industry, with assets directly involved in excess of $250,000,000.

The Herald-Tribune quotes J. M. Kamps, general sales manager of the Insulite Company, as saying the transaction did not involve any exchange of stock and should be viewed more as a pooling of manufacturing and distribution interests.

Mr. Kamps said the Insulite organization would manufacture all of Manville's insulation electric products west of the Allegheny Mountain.

The Insulite Company and the United States Gypsum Company will pool their manufacturing resources throughout the United States and Canada and in all foreign countries. Business properties worth more than $1,000,000,000 figure in the deal.

U.S. SAYS CANADIAN VESSEL SHOWED NO LIGHTS WHEN SHELLED

motor vessel Shawnee arrived in port here last night.

NO WARNING GIVEN

According to the story told by Capt. McLeod, who announced his intention of forwarding a formal protest to Ottawa through his attorney, the Shawnee was twenty-six miles off New York at 9:45 p.m., Friday, bound from Halifax to Boston in ballast, when the No. 145, without lights, came up on the Shawnee's port bow and fired five shots without warning.

Following the broadside, Capt. McLeod said, the cutter hailed the Shawnee with "What ship is that?" Capt. McLeod replied: "Well, you should know." The cutter then turned her searchlight on the motor vessel, and began signalling the United States cutter Gresham, which arrived to relieve the No. 145.

CUTTER OUTSPEEDED
The Shawnee had been making about ten knots, Capt. McLeod said, and the speed was increased to twelve knots within a few minutes, when the cutter moved to try to repair pumps. At noon on that day another boat relieved the Gresham and was outdistanced by the Shawnee, which arrived at Halifax at 11 a.m. Saturday.

The Shawnee was built last year by the Meteghan Shipbuilding Company and is registered at Weymouth, N.S. According to marine records, she cleared from Bermuda August 5 for St. Pierre.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDIES TO TAKE FOUR YEARS

the present mandate from the department.

OPPOSITION DEVELOPS

On the other hand, a very real and genuine opposition to the plan, which promises increased costs of education, retarded ages of completion, and additional burdens of completion, was developing in every section of the Province.

It was an open secret among school trustees of Victoria and vicinity to-day that the ruling of the department would be introduced before the B.C. School Trustees convention, to be held shortly, as the main subject for discussion, and that a general call for retraction of the plan would be sought by many fixed in their determination to oppose a longer course for the same results.

The inevitable protraction of High School education to probable ages of eighteen and nineteen would deplete the number of those even attempting to complete their course, and could not be tolerated, they said.

WHY CHANGE MADE

Careful consideration of the addition of the fourth year was given by the Department of Education before the change was made in the curriculum, it was stated this morning at the Parliament Buildings.

It was generally felt by university professors that students entering university work were too young and immature. It was said similar arguments were put forward by the principals and staffs of normal schools. It was their opinion that the students, after three years' training in high school, were largely too immature to profit by professional training.

During the discussion preceding the change it was noted that high school teachers, as individuals and as an association, had repeatedly contended that all three years in the high school course were too heavy and that some subjects which should have formed part of every course could not at that time be given sufficient attention.

TOO MUCH HOME WORK

Requests had come from parents and parent-teacher organizations for the extension of the course, owing to the fact that the courses demanded too much of the conscientious student in the way of home study. It was stated at the Parliament Buildings, only those who were of exceptional ability and those who studied extremely hard completed the course in three years, they maintained. Others took four years to do it badly and with great discouragement to themselves, because of being rushed over the work.

It was also mentioned that Ontario had had a four years' regular high school course for some time.

It was also pointed out that the senior high school of three years was the natural sequence to a junior high school course. It was the purpose of the junior high school to give a student an opportunity to try out many subjects to discover his natural aptitudes and abilities, and if that was done, there would not be time in two more years to reach, at the end of grade XI, even the present standard required for junior matriculation and normal entrance.

It was estimated that over forty per cent of those who entered high school took four years or longer to graduate.

Under the four-year system, it was claimed, there would be nothing to prevent the brighter students from graduating in three years, even if the amount of work to be done in the high school were divided into four parts (years) rather than three as at present.

The weight of the completed new division, in the small high school the third and fourth year would likely form one division. In that case, it was argued, the additional year would not require an additional teacher. Hence, the cost of the additional year would be nil.

DIFFERENCE IN COSTS
In the case of the large cities, it was pointed out that Vancouver, New Westminster, Nanaimo, Nelson, Kelowna, Kamloops and others already have a fourth year (senior matriculation). Hence, a fourth year of the regular course could replace this extra year for the higher degree. However, in the smaller cities the addition of a year would mean the engagement of another teacher. This additional expense, it was argued, would be offset, to a certain extent, by the fact that retardation would be considerably less where four years were allowed to cover the ground previously done in three.

It was also noted that any extra expense would not be felt until 1932, when the students commencing the new course would pass into the fourth year. By this means the system would be introduced gradually.

ANALYZE EXPENSES

Last year, it was stated, 2,754 students took grade-XI work. Of these at least one-third were taking a fourth year owing to retardation re-

BEER PARLORS ARE SCHOOLS OF DRUNKARDS

So Says Rev. J. R. McIntyre; Filthy and Immoral Conditions Prevail

Government Control System in Partnership With Brewers, He Says

Declaring the system of Government control of liquor to be a partnership between the Government and distillers and brewers, and beer parlors to be so filthy and immoral that they far surpassed the old-time bars, Rev. J. R. McIntyre, organizer of the Prohibition Association of B.C., vigorously attacked the "liquor business" of the Government in an address before the W.C.T.U. at the Emmanuel Baptist Church last night.

Increase of crime, insanity and drunkenness and the huge liquor bill of Canada were arguments which Rev. McIntyre used for total prohibition of intoxicating liquors. He referred to U.S. prohibition, incidentally, pointing out that no group stood so unitedly behind the dry candidate in the last presidential election than the women, especially the W.C.T.U.

HOPELESS CASE
"I think the case is practically a hopeless one for the wets in the United States," he added.
In Canada, and British Columbia, in particular, it was proposed to educate and legislate with the purpose of stamping out alcoholism. The taste

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MARY METER LINDEN

Mrs. Linden will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CHILDREN'S LOVE FOR EACH OTHER CANNOT BE FORCED

Mrs. H. W. writes—"I have two small daughters five and seven. I want them to love each other and be pals but they quarrel so much. I am trying hard to teach them to stand by each other. The oldest has an affectionate disposition and the younger hasn't. The oldest is easily led by other children and very seldom plays what she wants to but always does as the others dictate."

"Should I teach her to slap back when she is slapped? She never does—just runs and cries. I wish she had more spirit. It makes her sulky and unhappy when children talk ugly to her and makes her take minor parts in their play. How can I help?"

"The younger one is quiet. She doesn't care much to play with other children, but she asserts her rights, for she won't play unless she can have her own way."

"Sometimes when the older one wants to love her she pushes her away and tells her to leave her alone. She refuses all help with her dressing. How can I help them to be loving and kind to each other?"

ANSWER

This is a large order and one impossible to fill. No one can tell you how to make your children over, neither can you tell at this age what your children will be when grown. You are expecting adult attitudes and virtues of them now.

There is every chance that these sisters will be affectionate and companionable, though. Their dispositions fit well together, one girl affectionate and easily led, the other independent and dominating. All you can do as their mother is to give them both affection and endeavor strenuously to keep them from showing partiality to this older child who evidently arouses your sympathies more than the younger. I think you would do better not to encourage this tendency in yourself. If you give the older one the idea that she is in need of sympathy, that she always has to play the minor roles, that she doesn't stand up for herself, you are giving her a large chip to carry that she may never lose. Instead, hide your sympathy and encourage her to take her own part. Tell her that she must try to think up interesting games so the children will want to do what she would like to. To help her in this, stimulate her imagination by reading her good stories and helping her to learn new and attractive games to play. The children will listen to her suggestions if she has something interesting to offer and you can help her in this way, unobtrusively.

Tell her that instead of running home she should show the children that she isn't a coward. If she stood up for herself, even once, they wouldn't slap her again.

If you give the children equal affection, never contrasting one with the other, and tell them how lucky each is to have a sister as a companion, they will be influenced by your attitude. These childish quarrels aren't very significant, and this tendency will be outgrown.

But why, asked the speaker, does the Government go into the liquor business? Why not into the milk business? Although the Dominion Government passed legislation against importation of liquor, it was still going on, he maintained. The whole system, he claimed, was one of Government sale, not of Government control. The Government went into partnership with the distillers and brewers.

Drunk Women
"And the beer parlors," he continued, "have become so dirty, so filthy and so immoral, that they far surpass the old bars. Women sit with men, and it is a terrible sight to see young women of twenty-two or twenty-three years of age stumbling drunk out of the doors."

The result of this partnership of the Government was to make the people forget the initial temperance side of the Government control measure, Rev. Mr. McIntyre asserted.

Even the Minister of Lands of B.C., when in Halifax, gives an interview with The Halifax Chronicle, in which he praises the Government control system. It was startling to me that he should do so," he said.

Mr. McIntyre dealt at some length with the increase of bootlegging. It was a fraternity, he said, and the individual was hard to catch. They had many permits under fictitious names and addresses and could buy their liquor perfectly legally.

BOOTLEGGER'S CHANCE
"The bootlegger has his opportunity under our system, and he'll get stronger until the Government changes the Act," he declared.

Rev. Mr. McIntyre quoted statistics to show the vast increase in liquor consumption between 1920 and 1928. In no other country in the world was consumption of drink increasing, he said.

In conclusion, the speaker termed beer parlors as "schools for drunkards," and urged his hearers to continue their efforts in stamping out this "parasitic industry."

REV. MR. HENRY SPEAKS
Rev. E. A. Henry, who has only recently returned from Eastern Canada, spoke along the same lines.

"What the people of British Columbia need to-day is what the people of Ontario needs," he said. This was the stamping out of the liquor traffic.

Rev. Mr. Henry paid the act of the United Church of Canada in going on record as positively against the Government control system. When one listened to experts who had studied the drink problem, one realized wherein it was wrong.

Great Britain's drink bill last year was £288,000,000, said the speaker. This was a staggering sum in view of the wide unemployment and poor social conditions of the country, he declared.

CANADA AS BAD
"It is almost as bad in Canada, however. Imports have increased 100 per cent since 1925. Brewery products have increased fifty per cent in the last two years and distillery manufactures from $9,000,000 to $25,000,000. Brewery stocks are rising," declared Rev. Mr. Henry.

"The latest statistics prove that Government control is a misnomer. It is Government sale."

"The liquor traffic undermines all that the church stands for, in manhood, in womanhood, in childhood, in political life and in social life. There is a united fight against it all over the world."

"When the liquor traffic gets hold of politics, farewell to clean politics," he declared.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
Rev. Mr. Henry quoted the opinions of several medical men, including Dr. Oiler and Dr. Mayo, regarding the drink question. He outlined its destructive qualities upon the body and brain.

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie presided over the meeting. Vocal numbers were rendered during the evening and a collection taken.

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie in her annual address at the afternoon session observed that service to God and humanity had been the keynote of the Women's Christian Temperance Union since its inception. The Union had been organized to fight the evils attendant upon the old saloon, and while the liquor traffic had clothed itself in more respectable garments fashioned by so-called government control and beer parlors, the need for temperance propaganda was just as great to-day. One of the most important phases of the work of the members was the education of the youth of to-day regarding alcohol. There was a pressing need of more systematic teaching of scientific facts concerning

Cubs Must Reassemble Wrecked Pitching Staff

THE SPORTS MIRROR

PRESENT indications are that betting on the forthcoming world's baseball series between the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs will be even money. This will be the first time in several years that the result of the series has been a toss-up. For four straight seasons the New York Yankees were overwhelming favorites, and they lived up to expectations by coming through in great style. In the last two series they won in straight games to create a world's record that will take some beating.

It is expected that more than $1,000,000 will be wagered on the approaching event, one of the biggest in the sport world. The author of this news is a prominent Chicago bookmaker. According to him the Athletics at present are 11-10 favorites to beat the Cubs in the series which opens at Wrigley field on October 8. However, it is his contention that only even money will be bet on the eve of the first game.

Connie Mack's American League champions rule a slight favorite because of Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg and Barnshaw, who are rated as more formidable hurlers than the best the Cubs can send to the mound. Most of the wise speculators think the teams are on a par in hitting and fielding strength and that Rogers Hornsby will offset the slight advantage the A's may have in pitching talent. That's why there probably will be no odds in the wagering when the big money is laid on the line. This bookmaker has already received a $200,000 wager from a New York syndicate at even money on the Athletics. In a few days he expects bets equally as large to come in on the Cubs.

Here's the latest world's record for consecutive holes in golf. Recently Norman Cox completed 234 holes at Madison Park Links, Peoria, Ill. The former record was 225 holes. Cox walked and ran more than forty miles over the links in setting the record, starting at 5 a.m., and stopping at 5.15 p.m. Cox wore out eight caddies. He stopped twice for lunch and rub-downs.

Earl Sande, one of the greatest jockeys of all time, is seriously contemplating giving up his stable of horses and returning to the turf as a jockey. Sande has ridden over 10,000 of his stable, Nearby and Safety Pin, to the stable owned by George D. Widener.

Max Schmeling has gone back to Germany. Maybe Einstein could tell him some way whereby he could pay his managers 112 percent of all he earns and still make a handsome profit for himself.

Max remains a classic example of what a little business enthusiasm can do to a new issue of stock.

Koute Roche says it's time for coaches to be more optimistic. You could be that way, too, if you were coaching at Notre Dame and had sixteen of last year's letter men back in the 1929 squad.

The headlines said "Jones Bows to Goodman." "Goodman Bows to Little." "Dr. Willing Bows to Johnson." That amateur golf tournament must have been an awfully polite affair.

Three big league pitchers, Haid, Malone and Myles Thomas, hail from Altoona, Pa. On July 12 all lost their games, Brooklyn beating Haid, while the Giants beat Malone and Cleveland defeated Thomas.

Charlie Paddock, former "fastest human" used to burn up the roads now, Paddock is employed by the Langwith Publishing Company of Minneapolis, which publishes tourist atlases.

Parisians are playing polo on mules instead of ponies. The game, played with mules, is much longer than it is played with ponies.

France is hailing as a future star of the tennis courts Lella Amet, sixteen-year-old player. Her father is her coach.

Zurich, Switzerland, has just constructed a new football and sports stadium. There are seats for 2,000 in a covered stand, and bleachers for 22,000.

Tommy Hitchcock, U.S. polo ace, started in the game when sixteen years old, heading the championship club to win the championship. Soon after he went to join the French Air Corps.

Benny Bass Is Winner On Foul

Ebbetts Scores Knockout in One Minute of Boxing

New York, Sept. 19.—Harry Ebbetts, Freeport, N.Y., middleweight, rated as a leading contender for the title, knocked out Izzy Grove of New York, at Queensboro Stadium last night after only one minute of fighting in the first round.

Are Tossed For Another Defeat But Coast Home

Boston Braves Hand National League Pennant to Wrigley's Club by Taking Pittsburgh Into Camp; Blake Knocked From Box Yesterday by Giants; Rogers Hornsby Sets New Run Scoring Record; Horace Ford, Cincinnati Shortstop in Record-equaling Performance.

By defeating the Brooklyn Robins at Wrigley Field last Sunday the Chicago Cubs reached a point where one more victory would give them the National League pennant beyond the last mathematical doubt.

The energetic Bruins are still snooping here and there in the search of the victory but nevertheless have become champions, almost without knowing it. The coronet was clamped upon the brow of Joseph V. McCarthy yesterday when the Boston Braves tossed the Pittsburgh 5-4 at Forbes Field in the first half of a double-header.

The new champions of the elder major circuit were allowed to enter their game against the New York Giants without the knowledge that the Braves had ended the struggle for them. Otherwise they might have done better against the Giants who opened the series with a 7-3 victory behind Carl Hubbell's fine pitching. The clan McGraw pounded Sheriff Fred Blake and Art Nehf with the same vigor that has marked many recent assaults upon the peacable young men who earn their money serving them up for Joe McCarthy. If these unprovoked outrages continue, experts and insiders alike will have to place more credence in Mr. McCarthy's plea that his pitching defence consists of so many paper hopes.

BUSH HITS BUMPS
Guy Bush, it is true, has been hitting the bumps but so has Bob Grove. With more than two weeks to get ready for the ordeal the rival pitching corps may be depended upon to make bass his dear on and after October 8. Many a "wrecked" hurling staff in the past has suddenly resembled itself upon reaching the world series, with the scent of important money heavy in the air.

Presuming that the Cubs' twelfth pennant long had been taken for granted—as Chicago fans took it—the most interesting development at Wrigley Field yesterday was Rogers Hornsby's feat in scoring all three of the Bruins' runs and so lifting his total to 146, two beyond the modern National League record set by Kiki Cuyler in Pittsburgh in 1925.

After Kremer and Sweetie had dropped the pennant-deciding first game to the Braves at Pittsburgh, the Pirates came back behind Henry Meisner to take the nightcap by 5-2. Jim Frey, Nashville recruit, gave the Phillies thirteen hits in his Cincinnati debut, but won his game by 9-3. The contest was won by the fielding prowess of Hideo Ford, Cincinnati shortstop, who cut in with eleven putouts and three assists. He fell short of the major league mark of nineteen chances accepted by a shortstop, but equaled the putout mark established by W. Fuller of Andy Freedman's Giants in 1923. Danny Richardson of Washington made the mark for total chances accepted in 1922.

Under the pounding of Yankee home runs bats the Cleveland Indians just escaped from New York with their lives yesterday. All visions of second money vanishing from the minds of the putout mark established by the home run twins, Ruth and Gehrig, who got two apiece, the Yankees bombarded the Indians out of two games by 9-7 and 12-2. Tony Lazzeri added a circuit blow for good measure, and the Sewell brothers performed for Cleveland. Ruth ran his total to forty-six, by far the highest in either circuit, and Gehrig mounted to thirty-four, second best in the American League.

The least said about the pitching in the first game the better, but there was nothing wrong with Roy Sherid in the nightcap. Westley Ferrell in this contest slumped far below his usual form.

SENATORS MOVE UP
Washington dislodged Detroit from fifth place by a margin of one and one-half games, through a double victory over the Bengals by scores of 2-0 and 1-0. The Meffers, Harty and Brown performed for the Senators, replacing Earl Whitehall and Elton Hewitt, respectively. Hoggett, the $50,000 southpaw recruit, said to have been purchased by Detroit from Montreal at a fire sale rate of something like $40,000, showed himself every inch a pitcher in his major league debut.

Chicago and Boston, in the American League, and Brooklyn and St. Louis, in the National, had no games scheduled.

Oakland, Sept. 19.—The Athletics' veteran right-hander with the temperamental arm, is hoping to get one shot at the national developing Chicago Cubs, in the world's series, according to local sports writers. He may retire from baseball after the series is over, figuring there is no use trying to cure an injured shoulder that refuses to yield to treatment.

According to Ehmke himself, however, the news that he is about through with baseball is somewhat premature.
"Of course I want to beat the Cubs in a series game," he told the Associated Press to-day, "but as to my announcing my retirement at the edge of the series, why, that is something else. I have made no definite decision about retiring. When I do I shall let you know."

Midweek Football League to Decide Details Monday

Definite opening dates, final arrangements for the season and entries for the loop will be decided at the annual meeting of the Wednesday Football League in the Ideal Barber Shop, Douglas Street, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The entry of three of last year's midweek teams is virtually assured and two more organizations are seeking entrance into the league.

Rennie & Taylor, runners-up for the championship last year and for many seasons the titleholders, will not field a squad this coming winter, but Hudson's Bar, Seanch, United and the Navy will again take the field, while the Garrison and Batchelor's Grocery are willing to back eleven during the season.

Arthur Johnston, manager of Kirkham's team, which played in the series some years ago, has been mentioned as a possible manager for the latter aggregation.

The league is expected to commence early next month, with October 2 tentatively set as the date for opening games.

Local Rider Shows Class At Vancouver

Glen Robbins Finishes Second in Provincial Championship; Marchiori First

Syd Luck Surprises By Win in Moody Cup Race With Glen Robbins Third

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—Syd Luck, "B" class rider, created much consternation in bicycle racing ranks here yesterday by winning the Dr. T. O. Moody Cup. Syd pedaled his warty way around Stanley Park in 16 minutes 15 seconds to win the honors and upset the apparent favorite, Jimmy Davies, Canadian champion, who was the first man to finish the course just a few feet ahead of Luck, but Davies, racing in class "A," started on a full minute ahead of Luck, and did the distance in 17 minutes 15 seconds. Competition was keen in the race.

Riders were divided into three classes, "A," "B" and "C," and there were twenty-three starters altogether. The class "B" boys surprised the senior riders in "A," by catching them at the top of the big hill at Prospect Point, and beating them into the finish line from then on.

Riders of both classes finished in a heap, with not more than yards between the first and last man in the bunch.

Harold Davies gave Brother Jim a battle for "A" class honors, and finished second. O. Robbins of Victoria was third.

Kingall chased Luck to the wire in "B" class, and Gil Grippin finished in the show spot. Stan Johnston was first in "C" class, with young Dave Cook second. Green was third.

The time for the 17 mile race was 40 seconds, just twenty-five seconds slower than class "A." The road race was the climax of a big day's racing conducted by the Vancouver Bicycle Club at Brockton Point.

Nearly all of the leading pedal pushers of the city were out for the meet and some thrilling races were seen. Harold Davies rode off with the majority of honors in the afternoon programme. The younger of the Davies was first in the class "A" mile, first in the 250-yard sprint and third in the five-mile British Columbia championship event, after putting up a great battle all the day.

The Provincial championship was won by Leo Marchiori. The veteran wheelman put up a great finish to beat out Davies in the last lap, after the youth had taken the lead just before coming into the home turn. It was the most thrilling finish of the day with Robbins coming up to pass H. Davies and challenge Marchiori just at the line.

Five C's Win Second Title; Seek Another

Defeat Tilloums 156-80 For Midweek Cricket Honors at Beacon Hill Yesterday

Will Meet Burrards For Provincial Championship at Brockton Pt. Saturday

Fresh from their 156-80 victory over the Tilloums in the final game for the Wednesday Cricket League title series, Five C's cricketers have set their eyes upon the British Columbia championship and have high hopes of annexing the honors when they journey to Vancouver to meet the Burrard Club at Brockton Point on Saturday.

The churchmen have already secured the Saturday and midweek league titles and have made a bold bid for the B.C. laurels.

Yesterday, at Beacon Hill, they ran up a score of 156 runs for nine wickets before declaring their innings against the Tilloums. The latter went in to bat but were retired with only eighty runs, although G. C. Grant led the batters of the match with a total of forty.

MAKE GOOD SHOWING
Willis with thirty-seven and Eric Quanton with thirty-five were high men for the Five C's. Eden Quanton was the outstanding bowler of the day. He took six wickets for thirty-four runs.

When the Five C's and Burrards meet on Saturday a royal battle is expected as they fight for the Tomlin Cup, the trophy now in possession of the Vancouver Cricket Club.

If the local team wins, the main-laid champions of the 1930 season will be forced to come here for the final next year, since the championship encounter is played in the city in which the Cup is held.

Five C's players will leave Victoria on the midnight boat to-morrow and will start play at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

THE HOME RUN PARADE

Babe Ruth returned to his best slugging form yesterday to show the Big Six just what a real batter could do. The Babe went to bat eight times in a double-header, hammered out five hits, two of them homers, and scored six runs. His best gain in the batting averages was four points, bringing him to .345. Rogers Hornsby also registered a good gain, getting three hits in five times to rise to a .375 average. Jimmy Fox, by heavy-hitting first sacker for the Philadelphia Athletics, dropped three points.

ISAACS HEADS BOXING BODY

Elected President of N.B.A. Next Convention Will Be Held at Quebec

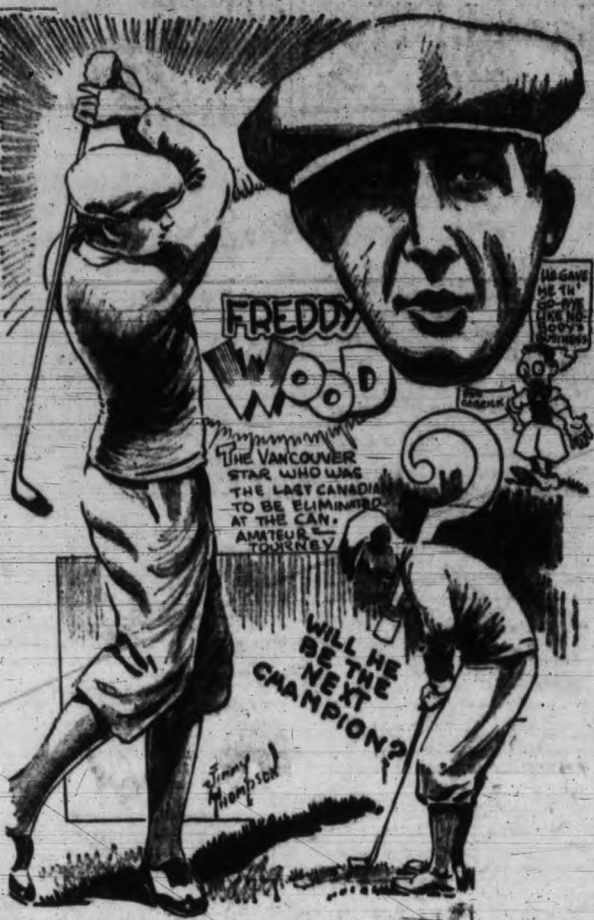

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Stanley M. Isaacs of Cincinnati, former president of the Ohio Boxing Association and a leader in American Legion affairs in the Buckeye state, was elected president of the National Boxing Association yesterday, the concluding day of the organization's national convention. The convention voted to hold the 1930 meeting at Quebec, Canada. Isaacs replaces Paul Frenn of Champagne, Illinois, as the executive head of the N.B.A., which governs boxing in thirty-one states. Isaacs served as vice-president during Frenn's administration. He was one of the youngest captains to serve overseas with the American army, being just twenty-one years old when he received his commission.

Edward Foster, Providence, R.I., was reappointed chairman of the championship committee by the newly elected president. Foster also was elected second vice-president with James M. Brown of Ypsilanti, Mich., chairman of the Michigan Athletic Board of Control, first vice-president. Brigadier-General John V. Clinan, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, was chosen third vice-president.

Jack Dempsey appeared before the N.B.A. delegates complimenting them on their efforts to improve the sport. Frenn, the retiring president, commended the former world's heavy-weight champion on his spirit in assisting in the development of the game since his retirement. President Isaacs announced the appointment of a new committee to carry on relations with the National A.A.U. with the possibility of aiding in the supervision of amateur boxing. General Clinan was appointed chairman of the committee, which also includes Walter Laginger of Milwaukee and Lathrop Cogswell of Baltimore, Md.

Youthful Golf Marvel —By Jimmy Thompson

One of the most promising of Canada's younger golfers is Freddy Wood of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, Vancouver, B.C., who recently reached the semi-finals of the Canadian amateur tournament played at Jasper Park, Alta. A youngster of only twenty-one summers playing in his first tournament outside the borders of British Columbia, Wood stunned the golfing world by defeating Don Carrick of Toronto, holder of the national title in 1928 and again in 1927, and in the semi-finals, proceeded to give Eddie Held of New York who eventually won the title, the battle of his career, only losing out by 3 to 2. Wood had the honor of being the last Canadian to be eliminated from the running. He has shown himself to be a wonderful golfer with a brilliant future if he is afforded a better chance for play. An ex-caddie, he is a protégé of Jimmy Huih, well-known professional.

Mrs. Philbrick Is Hard Pressed To Reach Semi-finals

Medalist Is Carried to Seventeenth Hole Before Defeating Mrs. K. C. Allen, 2 and 1, in City Championship; Mrs. Forbes Wilson Stages Fine Rally to Subdue Mrs. Wilding, Former Titleholder, 4 and 2; Marjorie Todd, Brilliant Youngster, Wins Again; Mrs. Jackson Other Semi-finalist.

With the competitors displaying some of the best golf ever seen in a city championship, the semi-finals were reached yesterday in the annual women's city tournament at the Victoria Golf Club. Yesterday's play brought out three fine matches, with the winners being in doubt the whole way. Those who reached the semi-finals were: Mrs. B. R. Philbrick of the Victoria Golf Club, winner of the medal honors; Miss Marjorie Todd of the Victoria Golf Club, Mrs. Forbes Wilson of the Colwood Golf Club, and Mrs. Jackson of the Uplands Golf Club. At the end of to-day's play only two of these will remain to fight it out for the championship.

Mrs. Philbrick, red-hot favorite to lift the honors, was extended to the limit yesterday to turn back Mrs. K. C. Allen, a closemate, 2 and 1. It was only by playing her best golf that the medalist was able to stave off defeat. Mrs. Philbrick was forced to overcome a lead of two up to finally win. Mrs. Allen started off like a winner by capturing the first two holes. The third was halved with Mrs. Philbrick taking the next two to square the match. After halving the sixth, Mrs. Philbrick won the seventh to become one up, the first time she had been ahead during the match. Mrs. Allen won the eighth and Mrs. Philbrick the ninth to be one up at the turn. The tenth was halved with Mrs. Philbrick going two up by taking the eleventh. The twelfth was halved but Mrs. Allen cut into her opponent's lead by winning the thirteenth. The fourteenth was halved but Mrs. Allen faltered on the fifteenth to put Mrs. Philbrick two up again. The next two holes were halved, the match ending on the seventeenth green.

Mrs. Wilson rallies. Mrs. Forbes Wilson, Colwood's remaining hope, was forced to stage another of her comebacks in order to win over Mrs. Wilding of Uplands, a former titleholder, 4 and 2. Mrs. Wilding had Mrs. Wilson two down at the fourth. The fifth and sixth were halved, but the Colwood player captured the seventh and eighth to make matters all even. Mrs. Wilding recovered to take the ninth for a lead of one up at the turn. From this stage on Mrs. Wilson was unbeatable and after gaining the lead at the thirteenth ended the match on the sixteenth.

Mrs. Hutchinson of Oak Bay was forced to bow before the steady playing of Marjorie Todd, fourteen-year-old clubmate, by the score of 4 and 3. The youngster got away well by winning the first two holes. The next was halved with Mrs. Hutchinson taking the fourth and sixth, after halving the fifth. The seventh was halved, but Miss Todd uncorked some brilliant golf to take the next three holes. Mrs. Hutchinson rallied to win the twelfth, but dropped the thirteenth, and the match ended on the fifteenth.

Mrs. Jackson, the lone survivor of the Uplands' club found no trouble in disposing of Mrs. Godfrey of Oak Bay, 7 and 5. The Victoria player tried hard, but was no match for her long-driving opponent.

HITCHCOCK AND TEAM BEATEN

Famous International Poloists Fall Before Play of Inter-collegians

Westbury, N.Y., Sept. 18.—Polo's young America, represented by the intercollegiate quartette of Old Aiken, handed a stunning setback to Tommy Hitchcock and his Sandpoint team. The hard riding and hard hitting youths, who hold the United States junior championship, outplayed a combination that included three-quarters of the United States "Big Four" of 1928—Harriman, Hitchcock and Hopping—in adding another big upset to the polo season.

Old Aiken's dashing riders received a five-goal handicap, but did not need it, for they won by 13 to 7, actually outscoring their formidable international opponents. It was a semi-final match in the Monty Waterbury Cup tournament and gained Old Aiken the right to play the Greenlee four in the finals next Saturday.

It was the second shock within a few days for the Hitchcock forces. Last Saturday they were upset by the Irish-American Hurricanes, featuring the play of Captain C. T. I. Roark, in the United States open finals.

Yesterday Sandpoint lost its veteran back, A. Chas. Schwartz, as well as the game. Schwartz was bruised and suffered a dislocated knee in a fall in the first period. He gamely continued play for another chucker, but was forced to retire and was replaced by Billy Post, Princeton youth, with the same rating of four goals.

POLOIST DROPS DEAD

Westbury, Sept. 18.—Thomas Le-Boutillier Jr., member of a prominent Long Island family, dropped dead yesterday afternoon while playing polo in a tournament at the Meadowbrook Club. He was in action with the Ixip team in the autumn ten-goal event.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—Instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore. (Adv.)

Salvage King Returns After Long Fight For Freighter Now Doomed

Local Craft Absent From Victoria Fifty-six Days Endeavoring to Save 10,000-ton Freighter Golden Forest From Alaskan Rocks; Second Grounding Too Much for Freighter Which Now Lies Abandoned to Wind and Waves; Capt. Hewison, Master of King, Breaks Two Ribs.

After a fifty-six day absence from Victoria, during which time many thrilling hours were experienced, the salvage King returned to Victoria this morning from Alaska where she spent much time trying to salvage the United States freighter Golden Forest, without success. The wild weather of the Aleutian Peninsula cheated the salvage King out of success and to-day the Golden Forest lies a battered and abandoned wreck on a rocky shoal in Shelikof Straits.

With true seamen's modesty Capt. J. M. Hewison, master of the salvage King, and T. W. Allen, superintendent of salvage operations, were reticent in speaking of the King's voyage. The rescue of the crew of the Golden Forest was a perilous task. The actual taking off of the big freighter's crew was accomplished by a fishing boat, which braved the surf and the storm to go alongside the doomed vessel. The salvage King was anchored about half a mile away, not being able to get nearer on account of the rocks and shoals which abound in those waters. First Officer Evans of the salvage King supervised the removing of the crew and their personal baggage from the Golden Forest to the rescue liner Admiral Evans on which they are now traveling south to Seattle.

GREAT DANGER

After the crew had been taken off, Mr. Allen and several men from the salvage King stayed aboard the Golden Forest, removing the salvage gear. The ship was perched on a rocky shoal and only for moderating weather conditions the men aboard the wrecked freighter would have been in considerable danger. The night before the crew was removed, a fierce northern gale blew and threatened at any moment to sweep the big ship from her position on the rocks. It was then that preparations were made for their removal.

Weather conditions in the Aleutians during practically the whole of the time the salvage King was there were bad. It was learned from the men aboard the wrecked freighter that there were tidal waves, earthquakes and dense fogs. One of the gales was so bad that it swept the salvage King half mile out into the bay while she was lying alongside the Forest at Akutan Harbor, where the latter vessel was beached.

HOPELESS TASK

A week after leaving Akutan, the Golden Forest piled up for the second time, this time on a shoal in Shelikof Straits. Conveyed by the salvage King, which was a short distance behind her, the Golden Forest, in a

APPEALS FOR LIGHTKEEPERS AT CONVENTION

Civil Servants Endorse Resolution Calling For Annual Holiday

The appeal of the Victoria branch of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada for an improvement in the conditions of lightkeepers occupied an important place in the discussions at the Toronto convention, reports A. H. C. Jones, the Victoria delegate to the convention.

A resolution calling for an annual holiday with pay for the light-tenders was endorsed by the convention. "Poorly paid, badly housed, and no provision made for medical attention, are only a few of the grievances of men and women on lighthouses," Mr. Jones told the convention, and he produced letters from several lightkeepers to back up his statements. One described his lot as "The World Forgotten, by the World Forgotten," adding that he had not had an official holiday for twenty-five years. Other documentary evidence revealed that a lightkeeper had been discovered on his lonely rock dying from cancer. He died some weeks later. An outstanding grievance which the association has already brought to notice of members of the Federal Government was failure to provide substitutes for lightkeepers when they go on a holiday to break the monotony of their lonely lives.

Under existing conditions lightkeepers have to provide substitutes at their own expense and take full responsibility for anything that might happen in their absence, Mr. Jones told the convention.

The much discussed resolution of a $100 minimum for civil servants was passed in amended form. As finally adopted, it called for a $100 minimum for every adult male in the service and a $75 minimum for all adult females.

BIG BEAR GIVES AUTO FLAT TIRE AND LOSES LIFE

Nipawin, Sask., Sept. 19.—Bears got the worst of it in two encounters with men north of here.

Fire Ranger Johnson, riding horseback, met a female bear and two cubs on a road. He took a fancy to one of the cubs and he scratched the bear away from his mother. He tied one of the cubs in a bag to his saddle. After the bear had gone some distance the cub endeavored to get out and went about the front wheels. Finally he stuck his claws into one of the tires and it burst with a loud report. The road was cleared immediately.

When he came back he found the dog had killed the cub and eaten part of it.

BEAR VERSUS AUTO

A party of C.P.R. surveyors met a large bear on the road to Chiochaid. Although they tooted the horn of the car the bear waited in the middle of the road. The men bumped their car into it without effect. The car was backed up, but the bear played with the front wheels. Finally he stuck his claws into one of the tires and it burst with a loud report. The road was cleared immediately.

Empress of Canada Now En Route To Victoria

Blue Ribbon Liner of Pacific Sails From Southampton for This Port by Way of New York, Panama Canal and California Ports; Will Arrive Here October 14.

Southampton, Eng., Sept. 19.—The Empress of Canada, which left here with a large list of passengers, is expected to reach New York next Wednesday, and will sail thence two days later for Vancouver by way of the Panama Canal and San Francisco. Reports from the other side indicate that great interest is being taken in New York in the call at that port where, on the occasion of her first entry into the Canadian Pacific, the white liner created a sensation. Many passengers, advised from New York, had booked passage to Vancouver, and quite a number, both from the coast and the interior, are here and the American metropolis, are proceeding through to the Orient.

On the arrival at Vancouver early in October, the crew of the Empress of Canada, as she sailed to-day to Victoria, will be met by the company's ship, the Empress of France, a speedy member of the Atlantic Empress fleet, which has been taking the place of the Canada during her absence. The Empress of France will proceed, her own crew in charge, after a year's absence. The Empress of Canada will sail from Vancouver on October 17, the Empress of France returning to Southampton to prepare for her annual cruise of the Mediterranean.

The white "Empress," her new, single reduction turbines forcing her through the water with the smooth, rhythmic power that invests her with her new title, "Speed Queen of the Pacific," spread behind her a broad, foaming wake.

The Empress of Canada, newest member of the Pacific fleet of the Canadian Pacific, is the sixth passenger vessel of that fleet to be fitted with single-reduction geared turbines. First to employ the type were the four 20,000-ton Duchesses, recently added to the Atlantic service. So successful was the new type of engine that it was decided by the company to make a similar installation on the 21,400-ton Empress of Canada. This ship, comparatively new, was the holder of all speed records between Yokohama and Vancouver, and now, with a sea speed of twenty-one knots, is undisputed possessor of the title. At the same time as the installation of new machinery was commenced on the Pacific vessel, the Montreal was also re-engineered, the work taking less time in her case as many of the structural alterations were made in the larger ship.

While the engineers and fitters were busy in the engine-rooms and propeller shaft tunnels, armies of carpenters, joiners and electricians were busy warming the gnomes through the new passenger accommodation, the result of the labor being the addition of many extra bathrooms, the latest wrinkles in

PROVINCIALISM PUSHED BACK BY NATIONAL SPIRIT

Hon. Leonard Tilley of New Brunswick Here and Has Message For Canadians

Date of Election in New Brunswick Not Decided, He Stated

Hon. Leonard Percy de Wolfe Tilley, LL.B., K.C., president of the Executive Council in the New Brunswick Government, is of the opinion that it is the "duty of every public man to know his own country."

Putting his views into practice, Mr. Tilley, accompanied by Mrs. Tilley and the daughter, Margaret, set out from St. John, N.B., to size up the west. "Every province has its own problems to work out and while they may be distinctive and provincial, we must never forget they are part of the whole of this great Dominion," said Mr. Tilley this morning.

"Everywhere I go I find very commendable spirit in each province—a Dominion spirit taking the place of a purely provincial outlook."

Mr. Tilley, who is the son of Sir Samuel Leonard Tilley, one of the "Fathers of Confederation," is making his first trip to the Pacific coast in forty years.

He was first elected to the New Brunswick Legislature for St. John in 1912 and has had fourteen years' experience in provincial politics as a Conservative.

Tremendous developments have taken place on the Pacific coast in forty years. Mr. Tilley was nineteen years of age when he visited Victoria with his father. He recalls impressions then made of the beauty of the city and a visit to the Lieutenant-Governor at Government House.

Mr. Tilley has ever displayed the greatest interest in the youth of the country and when asked if he had a message for the youth of Canada's great west, he expressed the following: "Study the history of your country, love every inch of its soil, never de-fame fame, always acclaim its merits. Let no monetary call to other lands cause you to permanently leave your land of nativity and remember that this country of yours, of mine, is our country, the right arm of the British Empire."

Mr. Tilley plans to call on Premier Tolmie and the ministers of the British Columbia Cabinet during his stay in the city. He plans to leave at the end of the week on his return trip to St. John.

GIRL SUCCUMBS TO BURNS FROM COOKING STOVE

Miss Mary J. White Dies in St. Joseph's Hospital After Mishap

After a day and a half of suffering from burns received when grease she used on a cooking stove caught fire, Miss Mary Josephine White, nineteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James White of 2953 Cedar Hill Road, passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital at 5.59 o'clock this morning.

Dr. Forrest Leeder attended the injured girl, but all medical attention failed to better her condition and she finally succumbed.

An inquest would not be necessary. Miss White, working in the kitchen of premises at 1565 Wilmut Place, was by herself at the time of the accident, and the exact reason of the mishap is unknown.

Miss White was born in London, Eng., and is survived by her parents, two sisters, Alma and Edith, and one brother, Fred, all of this city. She was a member of Maple Leaf Lodge, A.O.F.

The funeral will be held from the B.C. Funeral Chapel on Saturday afternoon at 3.15 o'clock. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

FIVE CHARGED WITH OPERATING SLOT MACHINES

Operation of certain slot machines by storekeepers and billiard parlor proprietors in the city is claimed by police to be illegal and five charges against the operators of the machines were laid in City Police Court this morning.

Visits paid by Chief of Police John Fry to several downtown premises last Saturday night resulted in the issuance of summonses against the proprietors and the seizure of the machines.

The charges of illegally operating slot machines read in court this morning were against:

Frank Brown, 1315 Government Street.

Charles and Bert Irish, 712 Yates Street.

Joe Hong, 1435 Government Street.

Ark Mack, 1428 Government Street.

Yen Nom, 1601 Government Street.

R. C. Lowe appeared for the five accused and asked for a remand until next Thursday, which was granted.

The machines are of the type into which five-cent pieces are played. A handle is pulled and rotating discs forming certain combinations of colors determine the returns to the player. Candles are purchased by operation of the machine.

"I hope," Brent said firmly, "that Helen will not forget your unkindness to her mother."

"It was a master stroke. Plausibility did not admit of a man attempting to foster an impostor upon another man, and at the same time plausibly make his own effort as difficult as possible. Mr. Cunningham was puzzled, and a little alarmed."

"As you say," he snapped at Brent, "the matter rests between me and . . ."

"He turned to Helen, 'this young lady,'" Brent answered flatly. "He felt well satisfied with the progress he had made. He was convinced that Mr. Cunningham would not turn Helen away once he accepted the belief that she was indeed his granddaughter. And the readiest way to make him believe was to rob the situation of all appearance of an attempt to take advantage of it. Brent had reasoned."

Helen would be but a pawn. But now she was speaking for herself. "I didn't want to come here, Mr. Cunningham," she said swiftly. "I've grown up under Mr. Brent's care and I want to remain with him. After he told me about my father and mother I said I never wanted to see you, but mother wanted me to come and . . ."

"Here you are," Mr. Cunningham retorted dryly. "And now that you are here," he added hastily, "let us clear up a few important points. What would you do if I asked you to stay?"

Helen did not hesitate with her answer. "I should say no," she told him promptly. "There isn't any reason why I should consider your wishes."

Mr. Cunningham regarded her curiously. "Well, well," he said, "we shall see. But you do not realize that there are reasons why I must sift this matter to the bottom, I hope. If there's any truth in your story I must know it. You understand that," he appended, speaking to Brent.

Brent inclined his head. "Certainly," he said. "But we care so little about convincing you, Mr. Cunningham, that we have brought no proof."

"No proof, eh?" Mr. Cunningham repeated, and who shall say that there was not a note of disappointment in his voice?

"Except your daughter's photograph in a locket that Charles Nellin gave me," Brent added easily.

"Let me see it!" The scrawny hand extended eagerly, impatiently.

Brent took the locket that he had stolen from Nellin from his pocket and handed it over to Mr. Cunningham.

The latter held it close, examining it with the avidity of a starving man searching for a crumb of food. They heard him mutter something that they could not understand.

Then he opened the locket and a real cry was wrung from his lips.

Long he bent over the pictured face and soon the tears were streaming down his furrowed cheeks. Brent secretly smiled over the sight but Helen turned her face away.

He lifted his head at last. "It is my daughter," he said chokingly. "It is Evangeline. This is the locket I gave her mother. Her name was Evangeline, too."

Brent nodded. "Under your daughter's picture you will find another," he said.

Eagerly the old man sought to remove his daughter Evangeline's likeness, but his hands trembled so his effort was fruitless. Helen sprang for-

BEDTIME STORY

How Uncle Wiggly Fell In

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"Where are you going now, Uncle Wiggly?" asked Nurse Jane Furry. "Why did you go down the steps backward?" the muskrat lady housekeeper wanted to know.

"I thought maybe that would be more lucky," answered the bunny gentleman. "And I have been very unlucky in losing my nice wishing stone. So now I am going to look for it again."

"I hope you find it!" squeaked Nurse Jane.

Over the fields and through the woods hopped Uncle Wiggly. As he told you in some other stories, he had found a stone which he thought was a magic stone. But he had lost it. He was very unlucky in losing his nice wishing stone. So now I am going to look for it again.

"I wish this stone would wash the Bob Cat out of the world," thought Uncle Wiggly. And the stone did, flying right out of his paw.

Since then, though he looked all over and around the place where the stone had washed the Bob Cat and made him run away, Uncle Wiggly has not been able to find what he wanted. "I think," said the rabbit gentleman as he hopped along, "I must have help in seeking my wishing stone. The Bob Cat was with me when I found the stone first, but he has flown away. I must get some one else to help me."

As he hopped along Uncle Wiggly looked for a stone which was something like a lollipop, an ice cream cone and a chocolate drop.

Yet it was none of these jolly things, so you can easily believe that this wishing stone was very queer indeed. There are not many of them in all the world.

"I hope I find mine again," said Uncle Wiggly as he skipped over a brook and found a bit of carrot which he began to nibble.

"What do you want to find?" asked a voice in the grass.

"My wishing stone," answered the rabbit. "But I hardly think you can help me, Mr. Mole," he went on, for he saw that the animal who had spoken was a cute little mole, an animal something like a mouse.

"Why can't I help you?" asked the mole.

"Because you have no eyes," answered the rabbit, and it was true enough. No mole has eyes, but they really don't need them, for they dig their way underground always in the dark and they can tell where they are going and find things to eat by hearing and smelling.

"No, I haven't any eyes," admitted the mole. "But even though I can't see you I know you are Uncle Wiggly by your voice. And I can tell you are eating a carrot, for I can smell it. So if I can do that perhaps I can help find your wishing stone."

"It is very kind of you to offer," spoke Mr. Longears, "but how can you help me?"

"Tell me how you lost your wishing stone, then take me to the place and I will begin to dig," promised the mole. "Have as you see, very good. I will begin to dig," he said, and he dug his front ones which were almost like two spades, or shovels. "Of course, I won't know your wishing stone when I come to it," he went on the mole. "But you can keep close behind me and if I turn up the stone you can take it."

"That is very jolly of you," said the rabbit. "Come with me. I'll carry you in my pocket. So Uncle Wiggly put the mouse-like mole, with no eyes in his pocket and went to the brambly bush patch where the wishing stone had washed the Bob Cat out of the hole. "My wishing stone is lost somewhere around here," said the rabbit.

"Put me down on the ground and I will dig," said the mole.

Uncle Wiggly did this and the mole began to scratch in the dirt with his strong front claws, making a sort of tunnel. Generally a mole digs deep down under the ground. But this mole, wanting to help Uncle Wiggly find the wishing stone, dug a sort of ditch on top of the ground, turning up and over many stones, large and small.

"Are any of them your wishing stone?" asked the mole, for he could feel when he came to a stone.

"I don't see any yet," answered the rabbit. "Dig deeper and more holes, if you please."

So the mole dug deeper until, all of a sudden, he dug his tunnel right into a large hole that was already there. Stopping himself on the edge of this hole the mole called: "Look in and see if your wishing stone is there."

Uncle Wiggly leaned over the edge of the big hole and looked, but all of a sudden he leaned too far and fell in. "Oh! Oh! Oh!" cried the rabbit as he fell in the hole.

And of the egg beater will let the lump of sugar hang on and get a ride when it's mixing up the omelet. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly getting out.

Salt Spring

Mrs. G. J. Mount is seriously ill at her home on Rainbow Road, Ganges. Mrs. W. Wilson has returned to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McLennan Sr. recently held a reunion at their home, Beaver Point, in celebration of their golden wedding. More than fifty children and grandchildren attended in addition to friends from all parts of the Island, among whom were: Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. R. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mollett, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruckle, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Ruckle.

Mrs. Brentnall has returned to Victoria after a vacation on Salt Spring Island.

Lundy, of Victoria, has been a guest at Ganges House for five days.

The dance which followed the Ganges fall exhibition on Thursday last was a great success, being present a large number of guests. A party of sixteen from Crofton and Chalmers, and dancing continued until 3 o'clock. Arrangements for the evening were made by the Agricultural Association committee, and an excellent supper was supplied.

The hunting season on Salt Spring Island opened with excellent bags. Game from Victoria were numerous, seven hares, seven rabbits and a Burgoyne Bay, among them being the Isabel, with B. Lemon and party. A fine buck and the limit in grouse fall to Kenneth Mollett in the early morning, and V. Frink also got a fine buck.

DEBACHES COMMUNITY

"The liquor question is still one of major importance," she continued. "We cannot find any real reason for its existence; it still has a degrading effect; it destroys home life, handicaps individual life, debauches community life and lowers the moral standard of the nation. Safety on railways, in aeroplanes, in automobiles demands total abstinence. The social world has been slow in learning that it is not necessary to provide a good time."

At the conclusion of her address Mrs. Gillespie was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Mrs. William Grant.

The delegates adjourned for a drive through the city and surrounding country, calling at the W.C.T.U. Home on Ida Street for a brief stay. On their return to the Emmanuel Church the reading of reports was continued and the "B.T.L. quiz" conducted.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young girl 10 years old and engaged to be married. I don't want to make the mistake that so many women have made, so will you please answer these questions:

Why do middle-aged women distrust men? Why are they so dominating with their husbands? Is it the right thing to do? Is it right to watch and spy on your husband? When a good man who works hard, does not drink or gamble or philander, leaves his wife, why do all the middle-aged women sympathize with the wife? Don't you think one reason that wives lose good husbands to other women is because deep down in their hearts they criticize, suspect, condemn and distrust ALL men, and their husbands feel their thoughts? Every woman that I have talked to who has failed in her married life seems to worship the female sex but hates the male sex. What makes them that way?

AN INQUISITIVE GIRL.

Answer:

If middle-aged women distrust men, it is generally for good and sufficient reasons. You know Mr. Howells said that after two thousand years of Christianity men were still imperfectly monogamous, and by the time a woman gets along in her forties she has seen too many wandering husbands, even if she hasn't had one herself, to believe still in Santa Claus.

Twenty years hence, my dear, you won't be quite so optimistic yourself about men as you seem to be at present, and you won't be so certain that when a marriage is a failure it is all the wife's fault, and that the husband is a noble martyr who has done his whole duty and deserves to be rewarded by a divorce and a flapper who weighs about half what his wife does and is young enough to be his daughter.

You will have found out that if wives are selfish and self-centered, so are husbands. If wives are peevish and fretful and hard to get along with, so are husbands. If wives don't understand and appreciate their husbands, neither do husbands understand and appreciate their wives.

And you will know that the faults are about fifty-fifty and that both are to blame, and that if either one had had the intelligence, the self-control, and the determination to save the situation and make the marriage a success, it could have been done.

As to why wives are dominating with their husbands, that is because they are peevish, mean, bringings instead of pitheated angels, and because it is just natural for every one of us, male and female alike, to want to boss those about us.

It is wrong. It is foolish. It is bad manners, bad taste, bad policy. It is what has lost more women their husbands than any other one thing. For a man will forgive a woman every other fault under the sun so long as she leaves him his personal liberty.

You never hear of a man leaving an easy-going wife who lets him do as he pleases. It is only when a woman begins to nag, and tell a man where to get off and where to get on, and makes him toe the mark that he finds out that she has gotten old and ugly and fat and he has lost his taste for her anyway.

You are altogether mistaken in thinking that middle-aged women invariably sympathize with the wife when her husband deserts here. They don't. If the wife has been mean and jealous and selfish, they justify the husband and condemn the woman, and feel that it was about time the worm turned.

As a matter of fact, women are harder in their judgments of other women than men are, because women see through women more clearly than men do. And when a man deserts his wife because she nagged the soul out of him, or tortured him with her jealousy, the women who know her are universal in their verdict that it serves her right, and she got no more than she deserves.

It is ridiculous to say that middle-aged women are man-haters. In a long and varied experience I have only seen two of that species in all my life. Women love men instinctively, because they are built that way by nature, and even when they have been mistreated by one man they have too much sense to judge all men by him.

It is a good thing to study the technique of the wives about you so as to see their mistakes and avoid making them, but don't be silly enough to cultivate any prejudice against middle-aged women. They are the salt of the earth. Their experiences with men make your theories seem like kindergarten stuff. Many a one of them has acquired the philosophy of a stoic through suffering, and hides wounds in her soul that never cease aching, and she would wear on her breast the cross of the Legion of Honor if she had her just deserts.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a young man of a very affectionate and sympathetic nature and have been keeping company for the past couple of years with a lovely girl who possesses good looks and every charm except that she is absolutely lacking in tenderness and affection. She is cold and unemotional. She says she likes me better than any one else, but she does not seem capable of really loving any one. Do you think it would be better for me to forget her and try to find a girl who fits in with my ideals? Do you suppose I could be happy with this girl?

CYRIL.

Answer:

You can't make over people, Cyril, and when they are born repressed and stolid and unemotional and with ice water instead of hot red blood in their veins, why they are just as God made them. They can't help themselves. Nor can you do anything to change them. All you can do is just to take 'em or leave 'em.

And if you are the warm-hearted loving sort, my advice is to leave 'em. Otherwise you will spend your life beating yourself against a stone wall, because you will always be trying to break down the barrier that is between you and her and she will never be able to do it. Otherwise you will starve to death, for you will always be asking for bread, and the girl cannot give it to you because she simply hasn't got it on her shelves.

There is a theory that these frozen people who never tell you that they love you, who never give you a caress, who never show you any tenderness, are sort of volcanoes under snow, and that they really care as much as demonstrative people, but I have never believed it. I think the reason they are cold and hard is just because they never really care for any human being but themselves.

And, anyway, what does it matter whether they care or not if they give no sign of it? It does a man no more good for his wife to really love him, if she never lets him know it, than it would for her to have a million dollars locked

Future King's Sister "Put Him in His Place"

Henry III of France, when he was a little boy, was treated like a prince, indeed. His mother had formed a little school to which only the children of nobles of the kingdom went, and Henry, as a member of the royal family, was treated with great respect by all his schoolmates. There was only one person in the school who had no fear of Henry, and that was his sister, Marguerite, whom he adored. The children used to ride in the great park around the castle, and they often practiced shooting with the crossbows in the woods. Henry was skilful, but there were other boys who could shoot better than he. However, when they had a contest, the other boys always politely let Henry win.

Not so with Marguerite. She could shoot better than her brother could, and she knew it. In the shooting contests, Henry always beat the other boys and then Marguerite beat him. Henry would be crestfallen, then he would brighten and say that if any one had to beat him, at least he hoped it would always be Marguerite.

Henry III, King of France, was born 378 years ago to-day.

up in the safe and let him go hungry because she wouldn't give him enough to buy a square meal.

I think no greater misfortune can happen to a man who is warm-hearted than to marry a cold-hearted woman, and if you will take my advice you won't do it.

Pick out a cuddly little thing who will want to love to be loved. Not a frozen-faced maiden whose kisses will be like a cold buttercake flapping against your cheek.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am 28. I have a very attractive husband and two lovely children and we have become prosperous of late. My problem is that I haven't the gift of easy conversation or wit. It is hard for me to make friends, but when I do I keep them. If I could only cultivate the gift of repartee things would be different. I can talk, but it is the quick and ready retort that is important. Is there any way of cultivating this?

C. L. C.

Answer:

No, I don't think there is. Spontaneous wit is a gift of the gods, and there is no way of making a synthetic substitute that is just as good. But, dear lady, don't waste your tears on regret over not being endowed with the ability to say sharp things. More women have cut their own throats with their tongues than ever profited by them. Reflect, did you ever know a witty woman who was popular or who had any friends? Well, hardly ever, because there are few women who have the knack of saying smart things who can resist making wise-cracks, no matter if by so doing they make an enemy.

Anyway there are too many talkers in the world. The crying need in society is for intelligent listeners. Just have intuition enough to find out what people are interested in and ask them questions. That will start them off on their favorite hobbies and they will consider you the most interesting and brilliant conversationalist they have ever met.

HOOT GIBSON, ON COLUMBIA SCREEN

Hoot Gibson was born in Tekamah, Neb., in 1893 and became a cowboy after leaving grammar school. In 1912 he won the all-around cowboy championship at the Pandemonium roundup and shortly afterward became a western "stunt man" in motion pictures. He served with the United States artillery during the war and upon his return began his career as a western star with Universal. His credits Carl Laemmle with having discovered him. He is the father of six-year-old daughter, Lois, and resides at Beverly Hills, California. Among his film successes were "Chip of the Flying U," "The Calgary Stampede" and "The Winged Horseman." He is starting in "Points West," now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

MURDER MYSTERY

The picture was produced by Universal films from the original story by that famous mystery author, Chas. A. Logue, and it is interpreted by a sterling cast of capable stars, including Barbara Leonard, Tom Dugan, James Carney and Eddie Hearn. "The Drake Case" is the first of the Universal Film Company's newer productions for 1929-1930 season of entertainment. The balance of the bill includes an all-talking comedy special from the Paramount Studios, entitled "Hot Lemonade," featuring Louise Fazenda and Walter Heira. The screen song, "Mother, Pin a Rose on Me," and M. G. M. News along with the ever popular fables complete the fine bill, showing to-day, Friday and Saturday.

An entertaining double bill of stage and screen attractions is the programme at the Coliseum Theatre to-day, where large audiences have enthusiastically received the splendid offerings. On the stage the Mildred Page Players present "The Boss of the Ranch," while on the screen the picture is entitled "Q Ships," a story of the mystery vessels of the Great War. The cast for the stage production this week is well chosen and all the players give good accounts of themselves. Mildred Page has the title role and scores a success as the strong-willed young lady owner of a large Arizona cattle ranch. Miss Ruth Albright is clever as a narrow minded widow of decided opinions with a sharp tongue. Miss Crystal Lee is winning as the popular little sister of the ranch owner, which part is well taken care of by Horace Linton. Paul Bardeley gives a fine performance as a Mexican cattle grazer. J. Barrie Norton is handsome as one of the ranch hands while Arthur Seigrist cast in the role of a villain. Phil Kieffer provides plenty of comedy with his love scenes.

GOLF CHAMP PLAYS IN PICTURE WRITTEN BY FORMER CADDIE

It was Walter Hagen's first day on the set at the Tiffany-Stahl Studios for the filming of "Green Grass Widows." M. H. Hoffman, vice-president, who was introducing the golf champion to his associates, finally arrived at Wally's room and introduced him as the author of the picture. Hagen gave an extra scrutiny to Totman's face, where a smile quirked the corner of his mouth when he saw that Hagen was puzzled. "Haven't I known you somewhere before?" asked Hagen. "Yes, I used to be your caddy," replied Totman, and thereafter followed many recollections of what happened at this match and what didn't happen at that one. "Green Grass Widows," with John Harron and Gertrude Olmstead in leading support of the golf champion, is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

BARBARA BENNETT IS FEATURE STAR
IN "SYNCOPIATION"

Barbara Bennett, featured player of RKO's talking and music production, "Syncopation," a "Radio" picture, showing for the last time to-night at the Dominion Theatre, has abandoned a promising dancing career to cast her fortune with the talkies. Miss Bennett, daughter of the famed Richard Bennett, has full opportunity to demonstrate her dancing ability in the lavish cabaret scenes of "Syncopation," done completely in sound with music by Waring's Pennsylvania. Miss Bennett began her stage career as a dancer in "Jack and Jill," popular musical comedy of a few years back. The following year she appeared again on Broadway with her father in "The Dancers," and later teamed with Maurice, world-famed dancer.
